

Representing Communities

San Angelo, TX

Before

Population:

99,000

Launch:

2014

More About San Angelo

San Angelo, a historic but forward-thinking city in West Texas, was saddled with an old website that hadn't been updated for 10 years. Partnering with Vision, San Angelo's team created a vibrant, interactive and refreshed local government website that now lives up to their dynamic reputation. During the process, Vision helped the city launch an extensive content evaluation that helped to focus and condense the website down to 400 pages of engaging and helpful content. The fresh, bold color-scheme, design uniformity and addition of new multi-media (videos, photos, etc.) helped bring the website new life.

"We could not have had a better experience with Vision. Everyone was super responsive, patient, very helpful and positive throughout the entire project. Any time we needed guidance, our project manager was there for us. The Vision Team went above and beyond. They were as invested in the website as we were, and we truly appreciated that!"

Anthony Wilson,
Public Information Officer